UNCLE SAM AND SPAIN.

An International Commission Considered Probable.

SEVERAL CLAIMS TO BE SETTLED.

We have the Mora Claim Against the Spanish Government, While Some of Her Claims Against Us Have Remained in Abeyance for Years.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—It is not improbable that an international commission between the United States and Spain will result from the urging of the Mora claim against Spain. This latter claim has brought up several others, and the situation is the same as that at the time the United States and Great Britain settled their conflicting claims by the Alabama commission, and France and this country came to an accord by the commission of 1881. At present the United States is urging the Mora claim, while Spain has as an offset the claims for the invasion of Florida when it was a Spanish colony, and for damages to Spanish ships during the civil war. In addition to this there is the prospect that the Cuban rebellion will result in further claims.

It is said that the British claims commission gives a precedent on the subject. The treaty for that commission provided that all classes of claims should come before it. The Alabama case was only one of these, and the award was made in Geneva. Then the same commission sat at Washington and Newport and considered Great Britain's claims against the United States for damages to British ships during the civil war. This resulted in an allowance to England of $1,924,829. Subsequently the commission considered the San Juan boundary, and eventually all pending questions between the United States and Great Britain were settled. The French commission sat in Washington for two years and finally awarded France $635,566 for damages to French shipping during the civil war.

Officials who took a prominent part in those memorable commissions say that the claims between the United States and Spain can be settled in the same way, and that such an arrangement is not unlikely as a solution of the present controversy over the Mora claim. It is believed that Spain would regard this as a more equitable means of adjudication than a settlement of the Mora claim on the spur of the moment.

A commission between the United States and Spain, it is declared, has been desirable for many years, as there has been no commission since that of Feb. 13, 1871. This commission passed on claims of the United States arising out of the early Cuban rebellion, but no provision was made for passing on the several other pending claims. At the time of this commission Spain commended herself to the United States by paying the awards as they were made from time to time, without waiting for the final award. Since then the old Spanish claims have remained in abeyance, although the Spanish ministers here have taken action from time to time to show that they were not abandoned.

It cannot be learned that negotiations for a commission have as yet been opened, although they are regarded as likely to be the natural outcome of the present circumstances.

Five Years for Forgery.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—Carlos J. Pareira, who said that he came from Mexico last September, pleaded guilty to false pretenses and forgery, and was sentenced to five years in the Eastern penitentiary. Pareira attempted to obtain money from a member of the firm of Ziegler Brothers, bankers, in this city, upon the strength of two forged drafts for $5,000 each. He also made use of letters of introduction signed with the name of a New York banking firm, which proved to be forgeries.

Liquor Men's Bonds Forfeited.

NEW HAVEN, June 21.—In the case of certain liquor dealers convicted here of the violation of the liquor law Judge Hotchkiss has ordered the bonds forfeited. This is practically the first instance of the enforcement of a provision of the law which the State Law and Order League has been for a long time endeavoring to have applied.

Carlisle to Visit Gray Gables.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Secretary and Mrs. Carlisle will leave here about the middle of next week on a few days' visit to the President and Mrs. Cleveland at Gray Gables. The Secretary will probably not return to Washington for a month. Secretary Olney expects to leave at the same time to join his family at Falmouth.

A Murderer Acquitted.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 21.—P. M. W. Baldwin, who fatally shot Andrew Yeoman about two weeks ago for alleged criminal intimacy with his wife, was given a hearing before the coroner's jury yesterday and discharged. The evidence showed that intimacy had existed between Mrs. Baldwin and Yeoman for some time.

The Disbursements for Pensions.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The disbursements to pensioners next month on account of the quarterly payment will aggregate $3,383,000. A requisition for the expenditure was made on the treasury department yesterday.

Burglars Got Gladly Left.

WELLSBORO, Pa., June 21.—Burglars entered the general store of Edward C. Close, at Round Top, three miles from here, and blew open the safe, but got nothing save some valuable papers.

SILVER ISSUE SNUBBED.

Republican Leaguers Refuse to Adopt a Platform.

MALPIN CHOSEN FOR PRESIDENT.

The New York Monometallist Chosen to Head the League by Acclamation—The Convention to Meet in Milwaukee Next Year.

CLEVELAND, June 21.—The national convention of Republican clubs had an eventful day yesterday. Its committee on resolutions consisted of fifteen silver men and thirty-one anti-silver men. The sub-committee of eleven to draft resolutions to submit to the full committee had only two silver men—Dubois of Idaho and Allen of Utah. After this sub-committee had worked all night on "an address to the people," with the word "resolved" omitted therefrom, a committee of three on revision was selected and the silver men claim they were not represented at all on the revision committee.

The sub-committee adopted the report of the committee on revision in the afternoon and the full committee met at 3 p. m. to consider "the address to the people" that had taken two days and one night for its preparation. The feature of the address was that it covered every question except that of silver, which was entirely ignored. This was done to prevent a minority report on the silver question and a fight on the floor of the convention. When the committee considered the "address" the anti-silver men opposed it, saying there had been more agitation here all week on the silver question than on all other things combined, and for the report to be silent on that question would be cowardly and inconsistent.

The silver men were satisfied with the "address," and had agreed to make no minority report and not to open the question on the floor of the convention in the event that the address was adopted. Their opponents, however, held that it was not enough to concede everything to the west for the sake of harmony without "rubbing it in." Some of the most ultra opponents of free silver in the committee finally insisted, if the silver question was ignored entirely, that all other questions should be ignored. This plan pleased the western silverites better than "the address to the people."

After indulging in the most bitter speeches for hours in the consideration of the address a new departure was taken by Senator Hutton of Michigan, offering the following as a substitute for the report of the sub-committee:

"Whereas, section 16 of the constitution of the Republic League of the United States says: 'This league shall not in any manner endeavor to influence any national, state, county or municipal convention,' the delegates of the Republic League of the United States in convention assembled do hereby renew their allegiance to the principles of the Republic party and pledge their best efforts for the success of the candidates of that party. Believing that this convention has no instructions from the Republicans of the United States or jurisdiction under our constitution to frame party platforms, we hereby refer all resolutions in relation to public questions to the Republican national convention of 1896, with entire confidence that its action will redound to the prosperity of our people and the continued glory and advancement of the country."

It was argued against the Patton substitute that the National League at its last convention at Denver and the previous year at Louisville, and at other national conventions, had adopted recommendatory resolutions without the constitutional objection ever being raised, and the adoption of the substitute would be accepted as a confession of this convention's inability to meet the silver issue. Although these arguments poured in hot and fast, and Chairman Robinson of Pennsylvania, left the chair to oppose it, yet the plan of ignoring everything, if the silver question was ignored, carried such headway that the Patton substitute was adopted at 6:30 p. m. without a dissenting voice.

As "the address to the people" that was ruled out by the adoption of the Patton substitute reaffirmed the resolutions of previous national league conventions, there was much discussion of the following, adopted at Denver last year:

"We believe in the use of gold and silver as money metals, maintained on a perfect parity and interchangeable. We do not believe that there will be a permanent return of prosperity until the full use and highest possible position of silver shall be restored, and ask for such legislation as will bring about this result."

When the roll of states was called for resolutions to be read and referred without debate resolutions by the score on every conceivable issue or topic were presented. Those on the financial question were for the most part duplicates of those offered earlier in the day and referred by the bushel to the committee's waste basket. Some sarcastic resolutions were offered on the silver question, one calling for fifty cents' worth of silver bullion to be made a legal tender dollar. Resolutions were offered asking the national committee to have the next Republican national convention held at Buffalo, Flushing, Milwaukee, Charleston, S. C., Cleveland and other places, all being yelled down before the reading could be completed.

The committee reported Milwaukee as the place for the next convention, the time to be fixed by the executive committee. The report was adopted.

The rules were suspended and the convention proceeded to the election of officers. Mr. George B. Green, state president of New York, in an eloquent speech placed in nomination General R. A. McAlpin for president of the national league. The mention of General McAlpin's name was greeted with tremendous and prolonged applause. Nearly all the states seconded the nomination, and General McAlpin was elected president by acclamation.

For secretary Mr. Churchill, of Colorado, placed in nomination John F. Byrnes, while Illinois nominated William Grant, and Nebraska nominated L. E. Walker. The election of secretary was laid over until today.

The notification committee entered with General McAlpin, the newly elected president, who expressed his thanks for the honor conferred upon him. He said that as long as he should remain president of the league, the only motto should be "Work! Work! Work!"

The banquet tendered the delegates at the Arcade last night was a memorable and brilliant affair. There were 1,500 plates turned on the ground floor, while the four balconies were filled with thousands of spectators. The ladies were seen in evening dress, and the occasion socially was equal to a national inauguration ball. No hall could have afforded such facilities as the interior of the Arcade building. The electric light designs and displays reminded one of the electrical building at the World's fair, while the profusion of the richest floral designs on every table and balcony resembled the Columbian horticultural department. The other decorations were equally artistic, rich and beautiful.

After the elaborate menu had run its course Hon. John H. Boyt, who was recently a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, introduced the speechmaking. The speakers were Governor Henry Clay Evans of Tennessee, Senator-elect Burrows of Michigan and Thurston of Nebraska and Warner Miller of New York.

General McAlpin Robbed.

CLEVELAND, June 21.—When General McAlpin arose yesterday morning he discovered that he had been robbed of a fine gold watch and chain valued at $500. The loss is a most serious one to the general, as he has cherished the timepiece for many years. Its loss is much more than a monetary one to him.

China Wants American Silver.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Negotiations have recently been opened with a view to having China secure from American capitalists the amount of silver requisite to pay the Chinese war indemnity of $20,000,000 to Japan. Should the negotiations be consummated it will make one of the largest financial transactions of recent years, and more than double the amount of the recent Morgan-Bulmont transaction with the United States. It was reported some time ago that China had raised the war indemnity in Paris by securing the guaranty of Russia and France. This has not been confirmed, however, and the loan has not yet been made.

A Satisfactory Conference.

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The conference between the wage committees of the Amalgamated Association and the iron and steel sheet manufacturers ended last night by signing a scale to run from July 1 to June 30 of next year. A sliding scale based on the selling price of sheets was adopted, instead of the old base of the selling price of bar iron. The workers are to get 2 per cent. increase on every 10 per cent. advance in the price of sheets. This wage agreement insures work for 20,000 men. The tin plate scale is being considered today.

Reported Capture of Gomez.

HAVANA, June 21.—Lieutenant Rodan, with 20 infantry, charged a band of insurgents in the mountains of Santa Barbara with the bayonet, and took a trench on the heights. The insurgents left two dead and retired to Sierra Maestra, three more being killed and six wounded during the engagement. The column of Michelena, at Caney Sitio, had an engagement with the insurgents, in which twenty-two of the latter were killed and wounded. It is reported here that the Cuban insurgent Gomez has been captured.

Cleveland Bakers on Strike.

CLEVELAND, June 21.—One hundred and fifty bakers are on a strike in this city. The union recently adopted a scale which the Master Bakers' association has refused to sign. The principal complaint was made by the smaller bakers, who claimed the scale discriminated against them. The fight on the part of the men is principally one for recognition of the union.

Passenger Train Wrecked.

HOOVER, Tex., June 21.—The north bound express of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad was wrecked ten miles north of here. The tender, baggage car, smoking car and two coaches left the track and turned over. Two coaches were smashed into kindling wood. No one was killed, but five persons were seriously injured.

Four Tramps Killed in a Railroad Wreck. BEDFORD, Ind., June 21.—A disastrous freight wreck occurred on the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railway, about five miles from here. A through freight train jumped the track. Fourteen cars were derailed, and it is reported that four tramps were killed. Three carloads of cattle were crushed to death.

Hanged for Killing His Brother.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., June 21.—August Borgeman was hanged for the murder of his brother Julius yesterday. Hangman Van Hise, of Newark, performed the execution. Borgeman killed his brother in a quarrel over money matters, the crime being committed in the presence of Julius' wife and her two small children.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., June 21.—Henry Bittling, 7 years old, was bitten on the head by a snake yesterday, and his life is despaired of.

CARDINAL GIBBONS' MISSION.

It May Result in Mgr. Satolli's Elevation to the Cardinalate.

LONDON, June 21.—The Standard's Rome correspondent, discussing the great attentions paid to Cardinal Gibbons at the Vatican, says:

"The career history of all this is rather curious. Cardinal Gibbons is a power in America, both by his sound doctrine and his personal influence, and, with a few exceptions, held all the Catholic forces there in his hand. This is not altogether pleasing in the highest quarters, especially when coupled with the fact that the American bishops show great spirit and independence.

"The pope instituted the apostolic delegation at Washington with a view to checking this independence. Cardinal Gibbons came to voice the American bishop's disapproval of this step. Mean time the question has been carefully studied here. The result is that Archbishop Satolli will be made a cardinal. This, together with the special attention shown to Cardinal Gibbons, must needs tend to convince him that the presentation of the bishop's memorial would be both useless and inopportune. It is hoped that he will carry it back to America.

"These incidents have caused many persons to think that the election of a foreign pope is not impossible, and that the pope himself favors the idea. This is also not displeasing to the Vatican, because it recalls the intangibility to the necessity of remaining united."

Permitted to Land.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The commissioner general of immigration has directed that Rosario Pagano, an Italian who recently arrived in this country with her two children, be permitted to land. The woman, who is 27 years old, expected to receive money on her arrival here from her husband, who is said to be employed in the San Francisco city postoffice. On being communicated with, however, he intimated that his wife had been unfaithful to him and declined to send her money. The officers learned that he was living with another woman, and contributed enough money to take her to San Francisco. She says she will prosecute her husband.

Pushing a Railroad.

HANCOCK, June 21.—Work has been resumed on the Pennsylvania Midland railroad, a twenty-five-mile line running from McKees' Gap, Blair county, through Bedford county to Bedford. Work on the line was tied up in January last by some difficulty about the contractor. A few months ago a new company assumed control under the direction of Theodore Gerish, of Lewistown, Md., and new contracts were made for the speedy completion of the entire line. A gang of 100 Hungarians are now employed in putting in the last bridge along the route. Five miles of track are laid and material for the entire construction is now on the ground.

Defended Himself from Insult.

AMORY, Miss., June 21.—At Greenwood Springs, a summer resort fifteen miles from here, Bruce Flanigan, proprietor of the hotel, called at the residence of Frank Dean. Finding Mrs. Dean alone he made an improper proposal, so she claims. She disarmed him of a pistol which he had and blew his brains out. She then secured her husband's shotgun, and leveling the muzzle at the dead man's breast fired both barrels. Mrs. Dean has not been arrested, and probably will not be.

Retired from Political Life.

VIENNA, June 21.—Dr. Von Plober, ex-minister of finance in the Austrian cabinet and leader of the Liberals, has resigned his leadership and retired from political life. It is said that the emperor ungraciously dismissed him, and that Count Hohenwart, the leader of the Conservatives, who is responsible for the miscarriage of the franchise reform, likewise received marks of the imperial displeasure.

GERMANS CHEER FRANCE

Cordial Greetings for the Former Enemies of the Empire.

GREAT DAY FOR EMPEROR WILLIAM

The Nations of the Earth, Through Their Warships, Do Him Honor on the Opening of the Baltic Canal—Fine Appearance of Uncle Sam's Vessels.

HOLSTENAU, June 21.—With much pomp and ceremony, and with the great powers of the world, through the guns of their warships, saluting him, Emperor William of Germany yesterday formally opened the Baltic and North Sea canal. He entered the western opening of the new waterway at Brunsbuttel, not far from Hamburg, shortly after daylight on board the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern and arrived at the eastern opening of the canal here shortly after noon.

There were three mishaps, all of a slight nature, during the passage of the imperial procession of about twenty vessels through the canal. The North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II grounded for a short time, but sustained no damage. The Russian gunboat Grossiasehski apparently damaged her machinery, for she was taken in tow by a tug, and the British royal yacht Osborne, with the Duke of York and his suite on board, grounded near Levensau bridge. This was the most serious mishap of the day, as all the vessels following her had to anchor for a long time. However, she was eventually floated and proceeded on her way to Holtenau, after having caused a bad break in the procession.

Both shores of the canal were lined with cavalry and infantry throughout the passage of the procession, and every point of vantage along the route of the new waterway was occupied by thousands of people, gay decorations were to be seen everywhere, flags innumerable floating from every point, and an immense amount of powder was burned by the assembled squadrons when his majesty, on the Hohenzollern, emerged safely and triumphantly from the Holtenau lock of the canal.

One of the features of the day was the warm and friendly reception given to the French gunboat Sarcos as she steamed through the canal in the procession. The French flag was cheered to the echo, and the bands played the "Marseillaise" as the French ship went by.

Another good feature of the celebration was the dinner given on board the Hoche, the French flagship, to the officers of the German battleship Bayern, who had entertained the French officers on Wednesday. Upon the latter occasion the German commander toasted the French president at the same time as he toasted the German emperor, and referred to the international feeling of comradery existing among naval men all the world over. The French commander, Admiral Merd, at yesterday's dinner, on board the Hoche, responded with a similar toast, which was vigorously applauded, and so the utmost good feeling seemed to prevail on all sides.

In short, Emperor William appears to have engineered a brilliant spectacle in which he, and not the canal, seems to have been the central figure, and it is safe to imagine that it was one of the proudest days of his life.

Last, not least, it is pleasant to know that the warships of the United States—the New York, Columbia, San Francisco and Marblehead—formed a striking feature of the naval display. They stood out grandly among the other warships, their white hulls gleaming in the sunshine, contrasting prettily with the dark hulls of the foreign warships, and their smart appearance causing them to be greatly admired by all.

Strikers Gain a Point.

LOWELL, Mass., June 21.—The 500 striking operatives in the Talbot Woolen mills at North Billerica, who went out two weeks ago on account of the refusal of the mill owners to grant them an increase of 10 per cent. in wages, were informed yesterday by the company that if they returned to work on next Monday a concession in wages would be granted them. The terms offered by the company were not made public. The strikers will hold a meeting to consider the proposition.

Yale May Challenge Oxford.

NEW HAVEN, June 21.—There is a probability that Yale will challenge Oxford alone if necessary to bring about an international athletic contest in America this fall. Captain Sheldon wrote to Harvard several days ago asking what they proposed to do, but has received no reply as yet. The Yale men believe that should Harvard withdraw, it will be not because of her sympathy for the University of Pennsylvania, but in order to widen the breach between her and Yale.

Fight with a Train Robber.

RED BLUFF, Cal., June 21.—Deputy Sheriff Martin and Bowers had a gun fight with Brady, the train robber, who killed Sheriff Bogard, of Tehama county. The two officers came upon Brady in the road, and ordered him to throw up his hands. Instead Brady opened fire with a shotgun, wounding Martin and shooting Bowers through the thumb. Brady was also wounded by the return fire. Brady escaped into the brush. It is thought he is seriously wounded.

Gentlemen:—Replying to yours of the 1st, would say that I have used tobacco for 46 years, and of late have consumed a 10 cent plug a day, besides smoking considerably. I commenced to use tobacco when I was only 11 years old, and have never been able to give up the habit until I took NARCOTI-CURE, although I have tried other so called remedies without effect. After using your remedy four days, all "hankering" for chewing disappeared, and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. I have no further desire for the weed, and experienced no bad effects whatever. I am gaining in flesh, and feel better than I have for a long time. To all who wish to be free from the tobacco habit I would say, use NARCOTI-CURE.

Yours truly,
W. N. WAITE.

THE COLLEGE OARSMEN.

Poughkeepsie Crowded with Visitors to Witness This Evening's Race.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 21.—The representatives of the colleges met last night and made arrangements for this evening's university race. The committee went over the course on the tug Susie at 5 o'clock this morning to station the buoys that mark the course. Three lanes have been formed by the buoys, and one is expected to be just as favorable for the oarsmen as the others.

Visitors began to arrive in town last night. All the hotels are full, and accommodations were sought in boarding houses. There are thousands of visitors here today. All vessels will be required to anchor outside the course, and Collector of Customs Kilbreth has ordered the revenue cutters Manhattan and Hudson here to enforce this regulation. Governor Morton and his family will come down on the tug J. C. Hart from Ellerslie. They have been invited to follow the crews on one of the revenue cutters.

The injury to his knee which Carter, of the Columbia crew, sustained by falling Wednesday evening will not keep him from rowing in the race. His knee was quite stiff yesterday, but Coach Woodruff thinks he will be all right by this evening. The regulars are all well and in good spirits.

Cornell remains the popular favorite in the betting at 2 or 3 to 1. Considerable money is being put up at these odds about the hotels and cafes.

No Trouble at Congress Mine.
PHOENIX, ARIZ., June 21.—A telegram has been sent by the Italian consul at Denver to Governor Hughes asking him to protect the Italian laborers in the Congress mine, eighty miles north of Phoenix, adding that the consul had telegraphed Secretary Olney the situation and asked his interference to protect their lives. Later a telegram from Secretary Olney arrived, saying: "Protect the Italian miners at Congress mine." N. O. Murphy, delegate to congress, telegraphed immediately and received the reply: "No trouble here, and but few Italians employed."

Constable Shot by a Tramp.
LANCASTER, Pa., June 21.—Constable Robert Leech, of West Hempfield township, and ex-Constable James Callahan, of Columbia, attempted to arrest a gang of six tramps on a Pennsylvania railroad bridge near Columbia, but met with determined resistance. Callahan was shot by one of the gang, the bullet entering his month. Thinking Callahan dead they were preparing to throw Leech over a high embankment when Callahan began firing at them, and all fled. Callahan's condition is serious.

Lambert's Appeal Served.
LANBERTVILLE, N. J., June 21.—Any doubt that may have existed in the mind of the sheriff of Camden county as to the uprightness of his right to hang Theodore Lambert by the appeal taken to the United States supreme court was dispelled when Lawyer Semple served the appeal on him. It is signed by Judge Green, of the United States circuit court, and acts as a stay of execution until further action of the United States supreme court. Lambert was to have been hanged next Thursday.

To Speak for Monometallism.
INDIANAPOLIS, June 21.—Ex-Congressman William D. Bynum has entered into an agreement with the Sound Money league to make twenty "sound money" speeches in Indiana of a non-political nature. The opening speech will be made July 8, and Mr. Bynum will thereafter make two speeches a week. Most of these speeches are to be delivered in southern Indiana, where the silver sentiment is the strongest.

Forfeited $7,000 Bail.
RICHMOND, Va., June 21.—Frank S. Smith, alias Parker, was arrested in January for swindling W. S. Withers, of Gloucester county, out of $7,000 by means of a gold brick. He failed to appear in court yesterday, and forfeited his bail. It is rumored that Parker has sailed for Europe.

The Death Watch on Buchanan.
SING SING, N. Y., June 21.—The death watch has been re-established over Dr. Robert W. Buchanan, the condemned wife poisoner, whose second sentence to be executed in the electrical chair in Sing Sing prison is set down for Monday, July 1. Buchanan is displaying signs of uneasiness and anxiety over the reluctance of his counsel to take action to secure further delay.

The Khedive to Ask the Sultan's Support.
LONDON, June 21.—The Times publishes a dispatch from Cairo saying that the khedive, who has quarreled with almost all the members of his family, intends to visit Constantinople to seek the sultan's support. Public feeling in Cairo and Alexandria is uneasy. This has been caused by a few government officials, who are fomenting political agitation.

Murdered in a Bowery Dive.
NEW YORK, June 21.—James Welsh, a sailor from the United States receiving ship Vermont, now at the navy yard, Brooklyn, was stabbed through the heart early in the morning during a fight in a bowery dive by John Ball, a tough of the neighborhood. He died on the pavement outside the saloon a few minutes afterwards. Ball was arrested.

A Singular Marriage Case.
RALEIGH, June 21.—A singular marriage case is attracting much attention here. On Monday Adolph G. Bauer and Miss Rachel Blythe, both of Raleigh, were married at Washington. Bauer is the most prominent architect in this state. His bride is a Cherokee Indian, and under the laws of North Carolina they could not marry here. They were legally advised that if they married elsewhere their marriage would be valid in this state. But today the announcement is made that the marriage is invalid, and that under a supreme court decision they are liable to prosecution if they return.

Strikers Supplanted by Colored Men.
PITTSBURG, June 21.—A strike of the furnace men at the Clinton Rolling mill is on. They demanded additional help during the hot months, which the firm refused. Yesterday thirty-five colored iron workers from Knoxville, Tenn., arrived to take the places of the strikers. There has been no disturbance as yet, but it is thought that the strikers will make an effort to keep the non-union men from working.

Chicago's Padded Pay Rolls.
CHICAGO, June 21.—Commissioner of Public Works Kent says that if sustained in his efforts by the legal departments of the city he expects to bring into the department of justice four of the highest officials of the late Democratic city administration on the charge of having wilfully and knowingly aided, abetted and directed the padding and robbing of the pay rolls of the city.

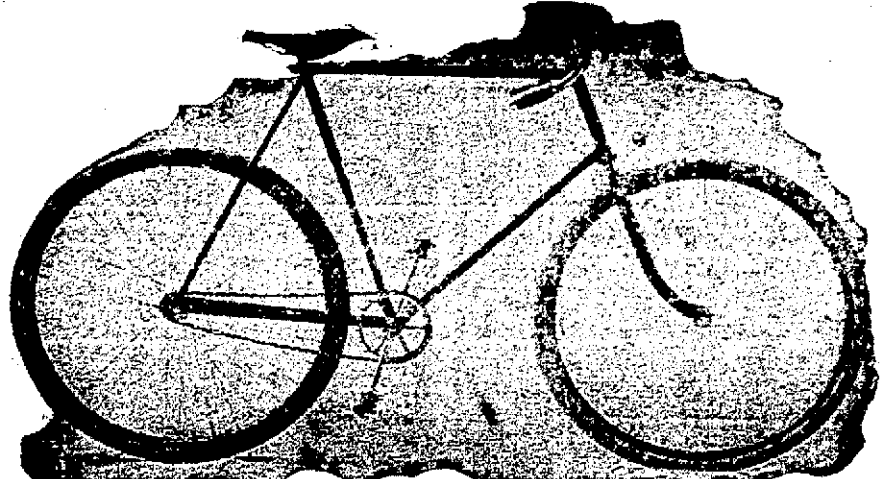

A Freight Wreck on the Pennsylvania.
HUNTINGTON, Pa., June 21.—A disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Pennsylvania railroad ten miles west of this place early in the morning, resulting in the blocking of both tracks and the destruction of two engines and thirty-five cars. The wreck was the result of the carelessness of an operator. All traffic was suspended for eight hours.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and adds to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the kidneys, liver, and bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50 cent bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

SHANKS!

That is a rather vulgar term some people use for designating walking. It is peculiarly adapted to the building lots we are selling on Richmond Hill. They are so close to the business portion of the city that you can walk there in less than five minutes. It does not cost ten to twenty cents a day to go and come. If it did, we would not advise you to buy such a place. It would equal the interest on an ordinary home every year. If you should borrow enough money to build a little home and were compelled to pay 20 or 30 cents every day to get there and back, it would be like paying 12 percent interest every year. This is one of the reasons we advise "Richmond Hill" lots; you can use "SHANKS" and, besides, property close to Franklin Square will always be worth more money than land two miles away. We are dividing profits with first comers.

Beware of Ointment for Catarrh that Contains Mercury.

Two Circuses—The New Opera House—Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—Hunting's show exhibited here on the Driving Park, on Tuesday. The shows were fairly good ones, but the audiences were not crowded ones. Two gamblers accompanied the circus and gulled a number of hoboes who were looking for two dollars for one. It is thought that they took over $100 away with them. What fools we mortals be.

—Merchants here are finding fault at the scarcity of change. They also grumble at the scarcity of dollars in circulation. Too much recreation and amusements seems to be the cause for all this as some people even borrow money to attend them and don't pay their honest debts.

—The scenery is being placed in the new opera house this week.

A False Diagnosis.

La Grippe is confounded by many persons with a severe attack of catarrh, which in some respects resembles the former. These are catarrhal sufferers. Ely's Cream Balm has been used with the best results in such cases. The remedy will give instant relief.

THE COMMON COUNCIL.

PROCEEDINGS OF LAST NIGHT'S REGULAR MEETING.

More Light Wanted—Much Work Mapped Out for the Street Superintendent.
Vacations for the Police—Crushed Stone ordered for Top Dressing—Wickham Avenue to be Paved With Brick—Petition to Pave East Main Street—Wants Information on a Dark Subject—Bills Audited.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held last night, present President Dorrance and Messrs. Bowler, Funnell, Hirst, Mance and Reed.
Mr. Youngblood asked that he be allowed to set his own curb on the Dolsontown road.

Joseph Shannon wanted to know if he should dig a ditch on New street for a water main if he or the city would be required to protect it. He was told that he would be expected to protect it.

A naphtha lamp was ordered on Prospect avenue north of East Main street.

A motion of Mr. Funnell to place an arc lamp corner of Grand avenue and Prince street was referred to the Lighting Committee.

A motion of Mr. Funnell to place
two naphtha lamps on Watkins avenue was referred to the Street Committee.

A resolution of Mr. Mance to reset curb and pave gutters where not already done, on Wickham avenue from Linden to Highland avenue, was carried.

Mr. Hirst moved that the naphtha lamp on Henry street be replaced with gas and placed on the opposite side of the street. Carried.

On motion of Mr. Sinebaugh
Lamp Place was accepted.

On motion of Mr. Reed the Superintendent of Streets was directed to remove the banner poles on West Main street.

On motion of Mr. Bowler the police were granted a week's vacation each.

The resolution passed, April 24, to grade, curb and gutter the Dolsontown road, from Genung street to the N. Y. S. and W. crossing, was approved by the Mayor.

On motion of Mr. Bastian the Mayor was authorized to borrow $10,000 on the credit of the city.

A communication from the Board of Health reported the approval by the Board of the dumping ground;
also requested that the Council have Draper Brook cleaned.

The fire department election was confirmed.

The statement of canvass of the tax election was ordered placed on the minutes.

The Sewer Committee reported favorably on the petitions for the extension of the Wickham avenue and cottage street sewers.

The Street Committee reported favorably on the curbing of Cottage street from the Erie road to Roberts
street.

On motion of Mr. Hirst the Mayor was authorized to procure crushed stone needed for top dressing.

The Street Committee reported favorably on the petitions for curbing and graveling walks on Genung
street.

Mr. Mance offered a resolution which was adopted, to pave Wickham avenue with brick from North street to the O. and W. road, one-third of the cost to be paid by the city and the remainder by the property owners and the Traction Co.

A resolution of Mr. Funnell to reset curb and pave gutter where needed on Montgomery street, between Roberts street and the Erie road was adopted.

A resolution to lay a crosswalk on Wickham avenue on the west side of Cottage street was laid over.

A petition to pave East Main street from Franklin Square to the railroad was read, but withdrawn to secure additional signatures.

Mr. Mance stated on May 2nd a resolution offered by him had been adopted directing the City Attorney to make application to the courts for the appointment of a commission to open Linden avenue through the lands of Mr. Wallace, and wanted to know why nothing had been done.
He intimated that several efforts were made to open this street, but some mysterious influence had always operated to prevent it. He didn't understand what that peculiar influence was, but he would like to know.

The Mayor said the officials had not had time to attend to the matter.
Mr. Mance moved that the City Attorney take action to secure the appointment of a commission at the earliest opportunity.

Mr. Gibbs of the sewer commission stated that the commission would not approve of an extension of the North street sewer as proposed from the terminus to the summit of the hill, until the surface water now flowing into the sewer is provided for otherwise. The commission would approve of a sewer from the summit to Wisner avenue and thence to Cottage street.

"HELP!"

A WOMAN'S DESPAIRING CRY.

It is Heard. A Prominent Actress Escapes Great Danger.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

How startling is a woman's cry for help!

I do? Where shall I go? She knows not.

I cry goes out today from every city, town, and hamlet in this country.

It comes from women who are suffering tortures of body and mind from some form of female complaint.

Many, through natural modesty, do not consult physicians, for many dread their examinations. They know not where to seek for help.

This alarming condition of things is simply wrong. The peculiar ailments of women are curable,

and in most cases

very speedily. Lydia

E. Pinkham's genius

and liberality have given to every woman

a sure and consistent means of relief.

No woman should suffer when she can obtain free advice.

She can state her case

fully to Mrs. Pinkham, woman to woman, without reserve, and the answer will come from one of her own sex. Be one of the vast army of women who write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and preserve your health.

Only a woman

can understand a woman's ills.

A prominent actress, in a letter to

Mrs. Pinkham, says:—

"... You cannot imagine the fearful condition I was in when I first wrote to you. I was simply of no use to myself or any one else. I had worked hard,

and my nervous

system was shattered from womb

"I had rheumatism and was in poor health a long time. Indications pointed towards the accumulation of impurities in the blood and germs of disease. I was constipated and had no appetite. I evidently needed a good blood purifier and decided to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It made a change all through my system, gave me an appetite and worked effectively on my blood. I am now perfectly well, my blood has been put in good order, thanks to Hood's." W. G. SKINNER.

BURGLARIES IN PORT JERVIS.

Three Residences Entered and Robbed

Wednesday Night.

Three houses were entered in Port Jervis, Wednesday night. That of Ed. Carroll, mentioned in yesterday's papers, and the residences of Mrs. A.
J. Cuddeback and John Kadel. The pocketbook of Mr. Carroll left on the front stoop with his trousers contained a considerable sum of money in one of the compartments which the thieves failed to find.

At Mrs. Cuddeback's they took a small sum of money from a purse left lying on a table.

At Mr. Kadel's they had collected a quantity of clothing, but were frightened away and left the bundle behind.

She was born in the town of Warwick, near Greenwood Lake, and was the daughter of William H. and Dorinda Hallock. Her husband, the late Jerome Collard, died March 25th, 1891, at Greenwood Lake. She has resided in this city for the past three years.

Mrs. Collard is survived by two sons, Wm. Collard, of this city, and Charles, of Colorado. SCHOOL DAYS ARE OVER.

FIFTY-THIRD COMMENCEMENT OF WALLKILL ACADEMY.

Friends of the Graduating Class Crowded the Casino to the Doors—Pleasing Features of the Occasion—All the Students Acquit Themselves with Credit—Presentation of Diplomas and Prizes by President Higgins—The Graduates' Dance.

The fifty-third commencement of Wallkill Academy was held at the Casino, last evening, and despite the intense heat the building was crowded to its fullest capacity by the friends of the members of the graduating class.

The class was an unusually large one, there being sixteen graduates, eleven of whom received Regents and Wallkill Academy diplomas and five Regents' diplomas. Those receiving Regents' and Wallkill Academy diplomas were Hugh Lowther, Gertrude Beakes, Agnes Macardell, Nellie Shafer, Lella May Mills, Anna Sinclair Woodward, Maysie Bennett Thompson, Anna Louise Hartwell, Louisa Cecilia Clark, Sara Grace Grover, Edward Pierson Uptegrove. Those receiving Regents' diplomas were: Egbert Jessup Moore, Ina Louise Mills, Clara Amelia Baker, Julia Adelaide Smith, Nellie Boyd VanDuzer.

The Casino had been tastefully decorated for the occasion by the class of '95. Palms were ranged before the footlights, while above the stage was displayed the class motto, "Never despair," in Latin, Greek and German. The class colors, purple and gold, were used in the preparation of these mottoes, the letters being of gold on a purple background.

The members of the Board of Education and the corps of Academy teachers occupied seats on the platform.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the singing of the "Neapolitan Boat Song" and a "Slumber Song" by pupils of the public schools, under the direction of Mrs. J. F. Tutnill, teacher of music in the schools. The children, some seventy-five in number, presented a very pleasing picture when grouped on the stage, and their singing, which was perfect in time and remarkably clear in expression, shows that musical instruction in the schools, under Mrs. Tutnill's careful and skillful direction, is producing most excellent results.

The warmest friend of the graduating class could not have wished for the exercises to go off more smoothly than they did. There was not the least sign of a hitch or a halt. Every graduate who appeared on the stage was perfect in his or her part and, what is most unusual, the enunciation of all was so clear and distinct that every word was plainly heard in every part of the house. The audience was kindly and sympathetic and heartily applauded each student who appeared. And the applause was in every instance well deserved, for the essays and oration were of an unusually high order of merit, doing credit not only to their authors but also to the institution in which they had received the instruction that made them such masters of the art of using words.

The friends of the graduates had remembered them right generously in the way of floral gifts, and as the essayists and orator were leaving the stage they were met by little Marjorie Tompkins and "Ted" Nickerson, bearing baskets and bouquets, which were presented in such a natural, artless way that the little flower bearers came near dividing with the graduates the honors of the evening. Flowers were not, however, the only gifts received by members of the graduating class, for many of them were remembered by friends with substantial, enduring and valuable proofs of affection and esteem.

The invocation and benediction were by Rev. D. J. Evans, rector of Grace Church.

DEVELOPMENT OF ENGLISH FICTION.

The first essay on the programme was "The Development of English Fiction," by Miss Agnes Macardell. Miss Macardell's manner was perfectly natural and her clear, sweet voice lent an added charm to the words of her very carefully prepared essay. Her subject was a very comprehensive one, yet she treated it so admirably that she was able to give her hearers a very clear idea of the successive steps by which the English novel of the nineteenth century had grown out of and been developed from the ballads of traveling minstrels and the romanticism of Chaucer. The influence of the translations of the Italian romances into English, and of the romantic school of fiction, of which Sir Philip Sidney was the leading spirit, was made clear, and a few words were said in praise of John Bunyan's wonderful allegory. The realists of the eighteenth century, Addison, Defoe, Richardson and Fielding were next mentioned, and the characteristics of their style briefly outlined. The influence of these authors, the essayist said in conclusion, was felt and reflected in the English fiction of today, which dealt with real life, incident and adventure, not with the impossible characters of the romances and idealists.

AMERICA'S DEBT TO WOMAN.

was Miss Anna Sinclair Woodward's theme. She began by referring to the inferior position of woman in ancient times and said that it was not until Christianity shed its blessings on the world that woman was lifted to her true level and given a title of genuine nobility. "America's history has been moulded by woman's hand and woman's heart." The discovery of America would not have been possible had it not been for a woman, Queen Isabella and the planting of her royal standard in this new world made possible all the blessings that have come from American freedom. The essayist referred to the courage and self-denial of the wives of the Puritans and to the help given the cause of liberty by the brave women of colonial times. She spoke of what American women had accomplished in literature, of their work in education, of what they had done for humanity and of their refining and uplifting influence in the home. Next to the Emancipation Proclamation, Miss Woodward said, Mrs. Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" had been the most important agent in the abolition of slavery. Special mention was made of women who had rendered conspicuous service in the educational field, and a most excellent essay was concluded with the assertion that whatever women have done for America in other fields of usefulness and activity their "noblest and sweetest work has been at the firesides of their homes, where they have ever been the priestesses who have kept burning the fires of love of God and country."

POLITICS AS A PROFESSION.

was the subject of a carefully prepared and well delivered oration by Mr. Edward Pierson Uptegrove. The young orator spoke of the honors that were to be won in the field of politics and of the natural ambition for a political career of those who felt themselves equipped by a knowledge of the principles of government to render good service to their country and their fellow men. He deplored, however, the fact that the uncertainties of politics, the ingratitude and fickleness of constituents, the inadequate rewards for public service and the short tenure of official life, except in a few administrative positions, made it impossible for a young man to choose politics as a career, as he might choose law or medicine. Practically, the speaker said, politics as a profession was closed against any one not blessed with a competence, for unless a person was thus blessed, if he devoted himself to politics he ended by deteriorating into a demagogue or succumbed to pecuniary corruption. Despite all this, Mr. Uptegrove is optimist enough to believe that our country is great enough and strong enough to work out its development and destiny, even though by the difficulties that beset politics as a profession it loses the services of the best and brightest of its young men.

THE POWER OF THE VOICE.

by Miss Lella May Mills, was next on the programme and was a very creditable effort. Miss Mills referred to the influence exercised by orators who had swayed and moved and inspired all who heard them. She spoke of Demosthenes, who roused the Athenians to take up arms against Philip of Macedon by words so eloquent that Philip said if he had heard the oration he would have taken up arms against himself, and of the help given the American colonies in their struggle for liberty by the burning words of Chatham and Burke. Passing reference was made to noble orations of Webster and the essayist then spoke of the inspiration of Martin Luther's words, still potent in the churches of Christendom, and of the consecrated eloquence of Spurgeon and Beecher. The power of the voice in music was next touched on, the wonderful sweetness and power of the voices of Jennie Lind and Patti, which moved whole nations, being cited as instances of what the voice can do when attuned to sweetest melody.

REALISM AND IDEALISM IN LITERATURE.

was the subject very intelligently discussed in Miss Sara G. Grover's essay. "The literature of a nation is the outcome of its whole life," said Miss Grover, "and realism and idealism are the underlying principles of all literary productions." Marcia, in Howells' "A Modern Instance," was cited as a type of a real and Portia as a type of an ideal character, and the grace, dignity, playfulness, wisdom, wit and loveliness of Portia were named as showing the better, stronger and more lasting influence of idealism. "Realism," continued Miss Grover, "is the faithful treatment of material existing in actual life. Idealism is a creation of the imagination, portraying men and women as they should be." Dickens, though a master of realism, blended idealism with it, for his grotesque imagination colors all his work. Jane Austin was the last great realist, for she was faithful to actual life in every detail. Howells was cited as the greatest American realist, and the essay ended with the declaration that "in the blending of realism and idealism lies the secret of the greatest literary power."

ATHLETICS FOR WOMEN.

by Miss Anna Louise Hartwell was an original, earnest and carefully considered plea for greater opportunities for physical culture for women. She referred to the interest shown in college athletics as illustrated by the attendance on boat races and foot ball matches, and to the fact that athletic contests were

WILL STICK TO RED SHIRTS.

Phoenix Engine Co. Will Not Give Up the Regulation Uniform.

A special meeting of Phoenix Engine Co. was held, last night, to discuss and take action upon a proposition to discard the regulation uniform of red shirt and black trousers and adopt the military uniform affected by most of the fire companies nowadays.

There was but a feeble argument in favor of a change, and many good reasons were given for sticking to the regulation uniform.

Finally a vote was taken and it was practically unanimous in favor of red shirts, only three votes being cast in favor of a change.

A Sensational Story Spoiled.

A Newburgh correspondent sends to the Herald a sensational account of the elopement from Warwick, on Monday, of Walter D. Brown, a married man, and Miss Jennie Uter. The Advertiser, however, says there is no truth in the report. While it is true that both parties left town on the same train, telegrams and letters from both show that they went in opposite directions.

A MORMON LESSON.

AN INDUSTRIAL SYSTEM THAT WAS FOUNDED BY A GENIUS.

Brigham Young Chose For the Cornerstone of State the Sound Principle of Industrialism—What He Did With the Problem of Irrigation.

On July 14, 1847, President Young and his fellow pioneers passed through the picturesque outlet of Emigration canyon into the valley of the Great Salt Lake. Utah was then Mexican soil, and the leader believed he could found whatever character of institution should suit him and his people. In the bitter anti-Mormon crusades of the past it has been alleged that "Brigham Young had chains on men's souls." There is no doubt that religious superstition, rendered effective by the marvelous machinery of the church, was partly the source of the leader's irresistible power with his own people, but back of the religious superstition and the church organization stood the brain of a great and masterful man. He knew that his power, to be enduring, must rest upon something material and tangible, and this something he discerned to be the prosperity of the people themselves.

Brigham Young was an organizer of prosperity. This was the real source of his strength. He did not aim at mere temporary prosperity. On the contrary, he fought everything that tended to that end, going to the length of actually forbidding the opening of the rich mines in the mountains near at hand, because he abhorred the spirit of speculation. He chose for the cornerstone of his state the principle of industrialism, and that principle has there yet, at the base of a noble edifice of economic fact, reared by human toil and held firmly in place by the average prosperity of all who had part in its building. If the great architect and the superintendents and foremen who surrounded him enjoyed a larger share of the profits than the workmen, it is also true that the humblest brewer of stews and carrier of mortar was paid in proportion to the importance of his labors. And what fair mind can object to an industrial system that yields these results?

So far as can be learned, Brigham Young had no previous knowledge of irrigation when he entered Salt Lake valley. He quickly realized that he had come to an arid country, which would be hopeless for agriculture unless artificially watered. With marvelous perception, he saw that irrigation was not a drawback, but an advantage of the most important sort. He realized that it meant freedom alike from the dangers of the drought and of the flood. He discovered that, having a rich soil and ample sunshine, and adding moisture by the construction of ditches, it was actually an improvement upon nature to be able to turn the "rain" either on or off with equal facility. And therefore he rightly concluded that he had found in these conditions the basis of the most certain worldly prosperity and the most scientific agriculture.

It remained for a later genius to remark: "Irrigation is not a substitute for rain. Rain is a substitute for irrigation, and a mighty poor one." But if the Mormon leader did not say so he evidently felt it. He perceived, furthermore, that irrigation was much more than an insurance policy upon the crops. It brought all the processes of agriculture within the realm of known facts, and that is science.

It even rendered possible the control of the size of vegetables, and this became important many years afterward, when the Mormon people added a great sugar factory to their industrial system, for it is important to grow sugar beets of about a standard size to get the best results. Moisture is required to give the beet a vigorous growth at the beginning, but when it is well started weeks of uninterrupted sunshine are desirable in order to develop the saccharine qualities. Much sunshine at the wrong time dries up the crop, while much moisture at the wrong time produces a beet pleasing to look upon, but unprofitable at the factory.

Brigham Young also realized, almost at the first, that the necessity of careful irrigation largely increased the labor upon an acre of land, but he found that this labor was generously rewarded by the increased yield both in quantity and quality. And from this fact he drew the most important principle of his commonwealth, which was the division of land into small holdings. Closely related to this is the other twin factor in Mormon prosperity—the diversification of farm products to the last degree.

Natural conditions, even where there is the most abundant and well distributed rainfall, are often favorable to the production of only a few crops. But the Mormons realized that the skillful application of water just where and when needed, and in just the right quantity, and by the very best method, rendered possible the widest variety of fruits, vegetables and cereals suited to the temperate zone. Thus Brigham Young taught the people that no man should own more land than he could cultivate to its highest point by his own and his family's labor, and that no man should go to a store for any article of food or clothing that could be profitably produced on his own small farm.—"The Conquest of Arid America," by William E. Smythe, in Century.

Weak, Irritable, Tired

"I Was No Good on Earth."

Dr. Miles' Nervine strengthens the weak, builds up the broken down constitution, and permanently cures every kind of nervous disease.

"About one year ago I was afflicted with nervousness, sleeplessness, creeping sensation in my legs, slight palpitation of my heart, distracting confusion of the mind, serious loss or lapse of memory. Weighted down with care and worry. I completely lost appetite and felt my vitality wearing out. I was weak, irritable and tired. My weight was reduced to 100 lbs. In fact I was no good on earth."

A friend brought me Dr. Miles' book, "New and Startling Facts," and I finally decided to try a bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. Before I had taken one bottle I could sleep as well as a 10-year-old boy. My appetite returned greatly increased.

When I had taken the sixth bottle my weight increased to 176 lbs. The sensation in my legs was gone; my nerves steadied completely; my brain seemed clearer than ever. I felt as good as any man on earth. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a great medicine. I assure you."

BOONE AND HIS PRISONERS.

The Old Kentucky Hunter Was a Prisoner In Their Hands For Months.

Boone frequently took to the field on set expeditions against the savages. Once when he and a party of other men were making salt at a lick, they were surprised and carried off by the Indians. The old hunter was a prisoner with them for some months, but finally made his escape and came home through the trackless woods as straight as the wild pigeon flies. He was ever on the watch to ward off the Indian inroads and to follow the war parties and try to rescue the prisoners.

Once his own daughter and two other girls who were with her were carried off by a band of Indians. Boone collected some friends and followed them steadily for two days and a night. Then they came to where the Indians had killed a buffalo calf and were camped. Firing from a little distance, they shot two Indians, and rushing in rescued the girls.

On another occasion, when Boone had gone to visit a salt lick with his brother, the Indians ambushed them and shot the latter. Boone himself escaped, but the Indians followed him for three miles by the aid of a tracking dog, until Boone turned, shot the dog and then eluded his pursuers. In company with Simon Kenton and many of the noted hunters and wilderness warriors he once and again took part in perilous expeditions into the Indian country. Twice bands of Indians, accompanied by French, Tory and British partisans from Detroit, bearing the flag of Great Britain, attacked Bonesboro. In each case Boone and his fellow settlers beat them off with loss.

At the fatal battle of the Blue Licks, in which 200 of the best riflemen of Kentucky were beaten with terrible slaughter by a great force of Indians from the lakes, Boone commanded the left wing. Leading his men, rifle in hand, he pushed back and overthrew the force against him. But meanwhile the Indians destroyed the right wing and center and got in the rear, so that there was nothing for Boone's men except to flee with all speed.—Theodore Roosevelt in St. Nicholas.

WELLINGTON WAS WARNED.

A Design Which Might Have Materially Affected the Destiny of Europe.

The story goes that Wellington used to ride over daily, with one or two of his staff, from his headquarters at St. Jean de Luz, and take his stand on the top of a wooded sand hillock, called Blanc Pignon, on the left bank of the Adour, which commands a view of both banks and the town itself two miles up stream. This had been noticed by the French, who had still command of the river and the opposite shore, and the zealous sailor aforesaid, Bourgeois by name, conceived the plan of entrapping the great English captain by lying in ambush for him, with a few men, among the undergrowth on the sand dune, which happened to be on neutral ground just outside the line of French pickets.

General Thonvenot very honorably declined to sanction this tricky proceeding, but, seeing through his glasses from the clock tower of the cathedral in Bayonne that it was actually being carried out, notwithstanding his disapproval, he sent a mounted orderly, as fast as he could gallop, down the road on the left bank of the river (the present site of the Alces Marines)—past the French pickets—to warn Wellington of his danger. The message was just in time. When within a short distance of the ambush, awaiting him on the river bank, he turned his horse and moved quickly off in another direction.

So says the story, which, entirely believed by the French, is placed on record by Morel, declared in a footnote to be correct, and then (1846) within the memory of living witnesses. We can entirely agree with the author in his succeeding remark, "Thus, by one of those strange chances beyond all human explanation, there fell through a design which might have materially changed the course of events."—Macmillan's Magazine.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, weakness of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion until my health was gone. HOW HE GETS HIS CUE

HE DOESN'T HEAR THEM, BUT "PICKS THEM UP" PROMPTLY.

A New York Actor's Way of Overcoming a Physical Defect—He Studies the Faces of the Other Players and Counts So as to Tell When to Speak.

Perhaps the most important detail for an actor to master in stage technicalities is the trick of picking up his cue quickly.

Every stage manager knows how important it is that that should be done. The slightest hesitancy in a quick conversation between the lines spoken by different people will surely spoil the scene.

The regulation way for actors and actresses to learn their parts is to also learn the cue, as well as their own lines. Perhaps it is well to tell the uninitiated that the cue consists of the last few words or the last sentence spoken by the other actor. Every part not only contains what the actor is to speak, but also the cue. Most stagefolk will tell you that it is more difficult to learn the cues than it is the lines, as they often convey no meaning to the mind.

Everybody in New York who goes to the theaters knows or has seen Joe Holland, as he is familiarly called. No one would suspect, to see Mr. Holland's rendition of the parts he plays, that he does not hear the cues.

However, that is a fact. Mr. Holland inherited deafness. His father was deaf, and his brother, Mr. George Holland, the Philadelphia manager, is also slightly affected that way.

It would seem to the average thinker that Mr. Holland would have found his infirmity a serious handicap in the dramatic profession. On the contrary, so cleverly has he managed it that it has been almost an advantage to him. Trivial noises do not disturb him, and in consequence he is able to give his whole mind, unaffected by any interruptions, to the work in hand.

Of course Mr. Holland is not absolutely "stone deaf," as the saying goes. He is what is generally termed "hard of hearing."

Now as to how he picks up his cues when he doesn't hear them.

He studies not only his own part, but also the entire lines spoken by other people when he is on the stage. He commits these to memory perfectly. So well does he learn them that he knows just how long it takes for them to be spoken. When he is facing the actor of whom he is to get his cue, of course he can readily tell when his turn comes by the movement of the other's lips or the expression of the face. He says, though, that the expression of the face is what he relies on most. He pays very little attention to the lips, because most people have a habit of moving the lips involuntarily even when they are not speaking, a trick that would easily lead him astray. The expression of the face, however, is a sure cue. It never fails him and always is the same.

His main reliance, however, is on a system of counting. He knows just how long it will take for each speech to be said. He times that speech by a certain number of counts. When he has counted the right number of times for the speech, he knows that it is his turn to speak. This is absolutely necessary when his back is turned toward the other actor.

As, for instance, Mr. Holland comes on the stage, his line is:

"Well, I've returned."

He then turns around to lay down his hat, and the other person says:

"But you were very late in getting back."

As soon as Mr. Holland turns he begins to count. When he has reached eight, he says in a monotonous way, no matter what is happening:

"Well, aren't you glad to see me back?"

Long experience has shown him that in this way he picks up his cue just as promptly and perhaps more so than though he had heard it.

Mr. Holland's adroitness in this line has been the wonder of New York managers. Probably no one else knows of it, for, as is natural, Mr. Holland is a trifle sensitive on the subject.

The only drawback that he ever finds to his system arises from other faults than his own. He has never yet been caught napping except when some stage hand made a blunder or some unforeseen accident occurred. This would only happen when some noise was to be made, as the ringing of a bell or the firing of a gun. In such cases Mr. Holland supposes, of course, that the property man or the stage hand is doing his duty. If, however, the property man or the stage hand does not do his duty promptly, Mr. Holland is left in an embarrassing situation.

Suppose, for instance, that in the business of a piece a bell is to be rung. It doesn't ring when it should. However, that's none of Mr. Holland's business. He naturally supposes that it has rung, and so he calmly says:

"Ah, there goes the bell. Go to the door, Mary!" And just after he has said it the bell rings.

Or if some one is to fire a pistol and Mr. Holland is supposed to be listening for the report with rapid attention, and when it should go off says, "At last he has fired," and no one has fired as far as the audience can discover—well, in such cases the stage manager swears and somebody gets fined.—New York Herald.

Their Trilby Club.

They were a party of gushing young girls.

"Oh, say," began the one in blue ribbons, "I've a splendid idea. Let's organize a Trilby club."

"Oh, yes," chimed in the others, "that would be delightful. How shall we manage?"

"Why," said the first speaker, "we'll all wear Trilby hats, and Trilby shoes, and Trilby gowns, and we'll sing Trilby songs and jabber French phrases along with our English, the way Trilby did, and—"

The prim girl at the edge of the group listened eagerly at first, but as the plan unfolded an expression of disgust and horror crept over her face. She could now contain herself no longer and interrupted with:

"Dress just like Trilby! Indeed, I won't, and I'm astonished that any of you should propose such a thing. Is it possible that you are all ambitious to become living pictures?"—Buffalo Express.

She Knew Him.

"He will turn the tables on you if you are not careful," said one woman to another, who was berating her husband.

"Turn—nothing!" she exclaimed. "He's so lazy he wouldn't turn a table if it was on rollers."—Detroit Free Press.

PEARLINE

"Play" for some women—hard work for others. Perhaps, for most women, more or less of both. Fix it to suit yourself. More play and less work—that's when you wash with soap in the old back-breaking way.

Better work, too, with Pearline. Little or none of the rubbing that wears things out. It's something to think about, whether you do your own work, or have it done. Easier, quicker, better, cheaper—and absolutely safe. Facts about Pearline known by millions of women.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "there is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, do the honest thing—send it back. 36 JAMES PYLE, New York.

SCHOOL DAYS ARE OVER.

encouraged by college faculties as proofs that the colleges had recognized that perfect physical development was necessary for the highest mental development. College records showed that the best intellectual work had been done by those most devoted to athletics. If athletic development was necessary for men it was equally necessary for women, and it ought to be a more important feature in women's colleges. Beginning had been made here and there, but the movement was still in its infancy. "Physical health can only be attained when women pay attention to physical development," and "work done from a sense of duty is a greater task than when pursued with interest," and the essayist argued that in the opportunities for rivalry and the enthusiasm born of athletic contests women would find the best incentive to perfect physical development.

AMERICAN WRITERS OF TO-DAY.

were ably and intelligently discussed by Miss Gertrude Beakes. "Tough an offshoot of the English race and heirs to all her wealth of literature, we have in six generations a literature of our own." Among American poets of to-day, the essayist mentioned Thomas Bailey Aldrich, dainty and finished in his work, Joaquin Miller, more admired abroad than at home and sometimes called the American Byron, and James Whitcomb Riley, unapproachable in his quaint humor. Miss Beakes referred to Howells as the first American novelist and F. Marion Crawford as a close second. Charles Dudley Warner's writings, "bright with sunshine and redolent of the breath of the fields and woods," came in for a word of praise and of Henry James the essayist quoted with approval the remark "we may love or detest him but we cannot ignore him." Other authors mentioned were Edward Eggleston, Mrs. Burnett, Miss Murfree, Mrs. Phelps, Mrs. Whitney, Mark Twain, Will Carleton and Frank R. Stockton, Sidney Smith's sneer, "Who reads an American book?" is forgotten, said Miss Beakes and she closed with a prophetic suggestion that it would be a pleasant duty to note the progress of American literature in 1905.

THE NEW-PAPER HABIT

by Miss Laura Cecilia Clark was one of the best essays of the evening. It was original in thought and treatment and presented an important truth in pleasing and impressive form. Miss Clark began by referring to the modern newspaper as one of the wonders of the age, a great educator, wielding a greater influence than the pulpit and books. "Newspaper opinion is usually public opinion." The newspaper habit, the indiscriminate reading of newspapers, is sending its roots deeper and deeper into our civilization. The newspapers are filled with so many unimportant details and are so given to sensationalism and such "an infinite deal of nothing" that the reader of a weekly or even a monthly publication is as well informed as one who regularly reads a daily paper. Constant reading of newspapers renders all other reading distasteful and robs us of the power of continuous attention, one of the best of mental attributes. The essayist said in conclusion, "Not the use, but the abuse of newspapers works evil. Read papers wisely, but not exclusively."

THE WANE OF A GREAT CENTURY.

was the very taking title of an excellent essay by Miss Nelly Shafer. She said that the world's progress in recent years had been unparalleled. The greatest event had been the utilization of electricity for lighting, as a motive power and in the telephone and telegraph. The utilization of steam on water and on land was mentioned as a most remarkable instance of steady progress in invention. The Brooklyn bridge and the proposed North River bridge were cited as proofs of engineering progress and the use of antiseptics and of antitoxins as recent triumphs of the healing art. The printing press and cheap literature, modern text books and free schools and higher education are adjuncts of an "age the tendency to which is higher individualism and greater self-activity."

THE NEW WOMAN.

The last essay of the evening, "The New Woman," by Miss Mayale B. Thompson, had been awarded the Dr. Talcott prize for excellence in composition. Miss Thompson said that the New Woman of the newspapers and of literature had no real existence, but was a fantastic creation, a pen and work caricature, the product of the bright brains of ready writers. She referred to the progress made by woman in recent years, to the opportunities for greater usefulness and activity that were now accorded her, and said of the suffrage movement that just as soon as the mass of women asked for the ballot they would get it "for man has never yet refused woman anything that she has asked." The essayist spoke of the efforts toward self-improvement that women were making everywhere and closed by saying:

"The real new woman will be the complete and finished product of broader opportunities, higher intellectual aims, more perfect physical development and nobler ideals of life. She will be all that woman has ever been,—the loving wife, the devoted mother, the queen of hearth and home. She will be more than woman has ever been, because she will be stronger, wiser, more lively and more lovable."

PRESENTATION OF DIPLOMAS.

Diplomas were then presented to the graduates by Mr. Henry W. Wiggins, President of the Board of Education, who said:

Young Ladies and Gentlemen of the Graduating Class:

An earnestness of purpose, a faithful application to work, an intelligent understanding of your duty through your school life, here now terminated, and a sincere and honest devotion to it, have brought you to this platform, to-night, with all the joys, with all the praise and all the honors that are justly and fairly yours.

The day of your graduation is one of intense and delightful interest. It crystallizes in a memory that will never die, the pleasures of the past and the hopes and ambitions of the future; for now, behind you is the dream; before you, the awakening.

The limitations necessarily placed upon me in addressing you at this time preceding the presentation of your diplomas prevent me from saying but little beyond expressing or extending to you in behalf of the Board of Education its sincere congratulations and the wish that the success which has crowned your efforts to this hour, will continue through your future life and work.

Permit me, nevertheless, to advise you, young ladies and gentlemen, that you are only at the beginning of real life, and whatever calling or duties you may choose, still to consider yourselves only as learners and that your acquirements here, though excellent, are but the rudiments of an education hereafter to be pursued yet never completed; and that this education, moral and intellectual, must be chiefly your own work.

Although this State deals out its resources with unostentatious hands, for the maintenance and still higher development of its school system, yet it must not be forgotten that it must receive in return from every city a full and fair measure of co-operation. It does not, then, such a city loses or permits to escape or be diverted, the great advantage that this system gives where all the necessary accommodation and all the necessary and complete equipment is liberally provided. These advantages cannot be overestimated.

The citizens of this city when the opportunity is presented I am sure will lay aside indifference, bury selfishness and forget individual and sectional prejudices, and give themselves and their children and the thousands that will succeed them, every educational advantage that is offered and can be obtained by a well considered and liberal endowment. And in leaving this subject, I pray you remember, O ye anxious and interested parent, the apt quotation from an ancient poem, that

"One son at home Concerns thee more than many guests to come."

He grows mere lumber and is worse than dead."

Again congratulating you, young ladies and gentlemen, I have the honor of presenting you your diplomas as graduates of the Wallkill Academy.

President Wiggins then, in well chosen words, presented the Dr. Talcott prizes for excellence in composition of essay and oration to Miss Mayale B. Thompson and Mr. Edward P. Uptegrove. The prizes were $10 gold pieces, which Dr. Talcott carried with him on his recent trip across the continent, and which had been with him in twenty-two states. Mr. Wiggins also presented another $10 prize, given by a friend of education, for the highest rank in scholarship, to Miss Nelly Shafer.

After the benediction, the graduating class indulged in their class yell which was answered by the classes of '94 and '96, which occupied the loges, and for several minutes the Casino echoed and reechoed with yells of the different classes.

After the audience had dispersed the seats were removed from the floor of the Casino and the class of '95 and their friends danced until 1 o'clock.

Dr. H. B. Hettinger, Indianapolis, Ind., says: "For several months after spraining my ankle I was severely afflicted with Rheumatism.
